Learning Intention:

To Write a personal recount on a recent memory

* include feelings and interesting adjectives *

Last year we visited a fantastic theme park in Wales called "Oakwood". It was an amazing place with lots of thrilling rides!

The biggest rollercoaster was called "Speed", it was also the fastest! So we joined a very long queue. I was scared and anxious that I would not be tall enough. I had butterflies in my tummy. When the man said I was tall enough I gave a sigh of relief.

Inside, my heart was pounding. Finally I was strapped in and we were off. We went straight up. I was screaming with terror. Then we plunged straight down and round and round. I closed my eyes and felt very dizzy.

Finally we slowed down and I could not believe it was over. I felt relieved but also proud that I had been so brave. Now I know what to expect when I go on a scary rollercoaster! Speed!

Fantastic work Aoife!

You have made it sound so exciting!
Well done with including 'feelings'.

It was finally here, the day had come,
I was jumping with excitement. This was the day that my uncle Philp was going to get married. FINALLY!! Preparation where going on for months. With new dresses bought getting hair accessories, shoes and lots more.

The day before the wedding
My daddy took me out of school early then he took me to Newry to the hairdressers to get bends in my hair.
Then I met my mummy and we went to get my nails done. That night I could hardly get to sleep with excitement

That morning I woke up and I was thrilled that the day was here. I couldn't wait to put on my beautiful dress and shoes. When I got to the chapel leona's dress was beautiful. When I got to the reception I found a massive sweetie table I was thrilled. I got to stay in a massive castle. For my dinner I had chicken nuggets and chips. That night a band called Sugar Town Road was playing and I was dancing to 3am in the morning. I had a brilliant day!

I got in the car and put my seat belt on and the car was all ready moving. I felt the bumps on the hill. My heart was beating fast. My stomach turned. At last we pulled up at the beach. I opened the door of the car and then my breath was full of cold air. We were there!

Excitedly we got our buckets and spades and we were off. We were getting closer and closer to our cousins and I was so excited to see them. Then I sat down and talked to them and after that our cousin's friend got us an ice lolly and a clock. and as soon as I opened the wrapper and I bit it, suddenly I could taste the icy texture and it tasted like fizzy fanta.

Finally me and my cousin Neasa went into the sea. There the water was like ice in freezing water and I was splashing to keep warm. Just then me and Neasa met a girl. She was very nice. So after that she had to go and then me and Neasa went out too because it was getting kind of cold and then it was time to go. The End.

An excellent piece Cait.
Sounds like great fun.

I looked out the window as the plane gently lifted up. Daddy gave me a chewing gum as the ground got smaller. I was so excited to be going to Spain on my summer holidays with my family.

As the airport doors opened I felt like I was in an oven, it was so hot outside. The first thing we did when we got to our cousin's house was jump in the swimming pool to cool down. After we had a water gun fight and I won.

Later on on the way to the park I could hear the loud sound the crickets made in the grass. Even though it was dark it was very warm. We played hide and seek. Then we went to a bar and we had a drink.

I was so tired, I could hardly feel my legs when we were walking back. As I got into bed I thought this is going to be the greatest holiday ever.

This is a fantastic account of your first day on holidays. Fionn.

You have included some great description. Well done!

My best Holiday

I was bursting with excitement, I started to bounce up and down like a rabbit who discovered the whole world was made of carrots. We were standing at Belfast airport waiting for the plane to take us to Disneyland Paris! Finally the plane arrived, we all got on and flew to Paris.

"Wow," I breathed "This is so beautiful." We just arrived and already we loved it. After the 2hr plane ride and $\frac{1}{2}$ hr taxi ride we finally arrived at Disneyland. "Look, I think I saw Minnie Mouse!" I screamed. "Where's Pinocchio?" asked Darragh. Me and Darragh started to get excited, too excited.

As we explored Disneyland, we got more and more excited. "Look," said mum there the restaurant! The restaurant was called 'Cafe Mickey'. It was painted on a bright yellow sign in red writing. After that we were stuffing our faces with pizza, sausages, chips and all the other junk food. Then suddenly there was a tap on the door... It was Mickey! followed by Minnie, Pluto, Goofy and the rest of them.

Soon we had all the autographs, we went to see the parade and the firework display. The parade was fantastic. I saw everyone of my favourite characters. Now the fireworks were started dancing in the air like 100 dazzling spotlights in the sky. How much more could I want?

This is fabulous
writing or lagh.
I want to go there
now!
